welcome guide

Welcome to Barcelona

Dear friend:

It's a pleasure to host you in.....We're glad you're here. Arriving is about more than dropping the luggage at the door. It's about transitioning from the stress of leaving to the ease of coming. Not just being welcomed, but feeling welcome.

Safety

While not to scare visitors in Barcelona, we suggest you take proper precaution in always keeping your valuables in a secure place. Be aware that pick pocketing does occur, but if you are careful, it is avoidable.

If you are robbed you need to go to the Mossos de Esquadra as soon as you can. They will usually ask you to fill out a form. They have employees that speak a number of different languages. There is a station located right in the city center:

Plaça de Catalunya, Phone : 092

It is required by Spanish law that a form of identification be carried with you at all times. This could be a passport, driver's license or national identity card (or at least a photocopy of any of the above).

A black and white photograph showing a hand-drawn 'Thank you' message. The words 'Thank you' are written in a cursive script with a black marker. The marker is visible at the end of the word 'you', and a small shadow is cast on the surface below it.

Thank you for your time and enjoy your stay!
